■■ 1. NOMBRE DEL ARCHIVO — renombrar el MP4 ANTES de subir ■■

ARCHIVO: 5-ways-brain-physically-rewires-stay-broke-neurocents.mp4

■ 2. TÍTULO — fórmula outlier 181x · validación externa 85x ■

TÍTULO PRINCIPAL: 5 Ways Your Brain Physically Rewires Itself to Stay Broke (Without Telling You)

Fórmula: '[Number] Ways Your Brain [Physical Verb] to Stay Broke (Without Telling You)' — 181× outlier validado.

Validación externa: '10 Habits That Physically Rewire Your Brain For Happiness' = 85× outlier, 238K views (it's that simple, 81K subs).

Validación externa adicional: 'These 7 Daily Habits Are Reshaping Your Brain Right Now' = 39× outlier, 396K views.

Alternativa A considerada: '5 Habits That Physically Rewire Your Brain to Keep You Broke (Without Telling You)' — 'Habits' funciona en outliers pero 'Ways' es más canónico de Neurocents.

Alternativa B considerada: '5 Ways Your Brain Is Physically Rewiring Itself Right Now (To Keep You Broke)' — 'Right Now' del outlier 39x, presente continuo para urgencia.

■ Mantener el título principal. 181x + doble validación externa = mayor confianza que cualquier alternativa.

■■ 3. DESCRIPCIÓN — copia exactamente ■■

Alex earns more than he did three years ago.

He has less to show for it. Not because of bad investments. Because his brain is running 5 programs he was never told about.

Here's the full map:

Way 1: The Anticipation Burn — Wolfram Schultz (Cambridge, Nobel) proved dopamine fires at the prediction of reward, not the reward itself. By Wednesday, Alex's brain has already spent Friday's salary.

Way 2: The Balance Blindspot — Galai & Sade (Hebrew University, 2006) documented the ostrich effect: when financial information is painful, the brain stops seeking it. The money leaves. Alex doesn't see it leave.

Way 3: The Expertise Trap — Terrance Odean (UC Berkeley) found that investors who traded more frequently earned less. Daniel Kahneman: 80% believe they're above-average investors. 50% are mathematically wrong. More vocabulary = more certainty. Not more accuracy.

Way 4: The Night Drain — Shai Danziger (Ben-Gurion University) studied 8 judges over 10 months. Morning: 65% parole granted. Afternoon: 11%. Same judges. Same evidence. By 10pm, Alex's resistance is minimum. The Brain Villain only needs to wait.

Way 5: The Upgrade Lock — Kent Berridge (University of Michigan, 30 years of research) separated WANTING (dopamine, increases with exposure) from LIKING (opioid circuits, decreases with repetition). Every upgrade raises the floor. Alex was satisfied for eleven days.

None of this is a character flaw. The programs are not broken. They are perfectly designed for an environment that no longer exists.

■ 5. MINIATURA — concepto 5 WAYS / YOUR BRAIN / REWIRES ITSELF (fondo blanco Andy/MoneyTom) ■

CONCEPTO A (primary): Alex IZQUIERDA, expresión shock (mano apretada contra cabeza), skull transparente mostrando Brain Villain activando 5 circuitos rojos simultáneamente.

TEXTO THUMBNAIL: "5 WAYS" grande negro | "YOUR BRAIN" mediano negro | "REWIRES ITSELF" ultra-bold ROJO (#C62828)

FONDO: BLANCO — estilo Andy/MoneyTom canónico. NO oscuro, NO gradiente.

TEXTO POSICIÓN: DERECHA del frame — personaje ocupa lado izquierdo

Expresión de Alex: shock genuino (hand pressed against head), ojos muy abiertos. Villain: dentro del skull, heavy-lidded smirk, activando 5 nodos rojos.

Los 5 circuitos rojos deben ser visibles dentro del cráneo transparente — no fuera de la cabeza.

■ BLUE t-shirt en Alex — NOT red. Verificar SIEMPRE en Google Flow antes de generar.

■ Brain Villain DENTRO del cráneo transparente — NO flotando fuera. Regla absoluta.

■■ 10. PRIMER COMENTARIO — fijar nada más publicar (inmediatamente) ■■

5 programs. Running simultaneously. Right now.

Alex didn't know any of their names — and they still cost him the same amount every month.

Which of the 5 is costing you the most? Drop the number below.

(The next video shows the structural fix for 3 of them — one decision, set up on a Tuesday.)

■■ 11. REDDIT — publicar 1h después de que el vídeo esté live ■■

r/psychology — Primero — Schultz Nobel + Berridge WANTING vs LIKING

r/BehavioralEconomics — +30 min — Galai & Sade ostrich effect + Odean overconfidence

r/personalfinance — +30 min — Danziger judges + Night Drain impulse hours

r/cogsci — +30 min — Berridge 30 years WANTING vs LIKING + Upgrade Lock

REDDIT r/psychology (primero):

Wolfram Schultz proved dopamine fires at the prediction of reward — not the reward itself. By Wednesday, Alex's brain has already decided how to spend Friday's salary. The decision is made 48 hours before the money exists. (Short video mapping all 5 mechanisms and why naming them isn't enough to stop them)

REDDIT r/BehavioralEconomics (+30 min):

Galai & Sade (Hebrew University, 2006) documented the ostrich effect: when financial information is painful, the brain stops seeking it. Terrance Odean found that the more investors trade, the less they earn — not because trading is wrong, but because confidence outpaced competence. We mapped both effects plus 3 more in the same video. (10 min)

REDDIT r/personalfinance (+30 min):

Danziger's judge study showed decision quality drops from 65% to 11% by late afternoon. Same person. Same evidence. Different reserve. Impulse purchases peak between 9-midnight for the same reason. Mapped 5 specific programs that cost the same % of income at €40K as at €140K. (Short video)

REDDIT r/cogsci (+30 min):

Kent Berridge spent 30 years separating WANTING (dopamine, increases with exposure) from LIKING (opioid circuits, decreases with repetition). Every upgrade raises the WANTING threshold. The LIKING response habituates. The floor cannot go back. (Video mapping how this interacts with 4 other behavioral programs to create a financial loop)
